

Asia University

Asia University is founded on a great enthusiasm for education

Asia University (AU) aims to raise its profile as a prestigious international university. In response to recent trends in the globalization of higher education, AU started recruiting international students in 2004. As of August 2013, AU had admitted more than 240 international students from 17 countries. In order to better serve and care for its growing number of international students, AU established its International College in August, 2010, planned out its internationalization strategy and implementation plan, and coordinated all of its Master's (and Doctorate) courses taught in English. This new college aims to provide a friendly living and learning environment and to better coordinate and tailor its in-campus teaching and research resources towards the needs of international students. The school has effectively improved domestic and international student interactions, cultivating a greater worldview within our domestic students and increasing the school's international recognition.
