

Vietnam National University Hanoi (VNU)

VNU is the largest comprehensive higher education and research center in Vietnam
VNU is the first modern university ever established in the country and one of the two national universities in Vietnam. VNU has undergone various stages of development: the University of Indochina established on 16 May 1906; Vietnam National University (November, 1945); the University of Hanoi (June, 1956). In December 1993, VNU was reorganized on the basis of amalgamating the University of Hanoi and other leading universities in Hanoi. VNU holds a special position in Vietnam's higher education system, operating according to a special regulation promulgated by the Prime Minister. Every year, VNU produces more than 5,000 bachelors, including 10% of gifted students at international standards, 2,400 masters and 200 doctors graduating from 108 university programs, 121 master programs and 112 doctor programs in natural sciences, technology, economics, social sciences and humanities, education and foreign studies, etc.
